Istruzione e formazione/
Education and Training

01/02/2019 - 31/01/2023 I conducted PhD studies at Budapest University of Technology and Economics. My research field revolved around the model-driven development and verification of component-based reactive systems using formal methods. I have been the main developer of the Gamma Statechart Composition Framework, a modeling framework for the component-based design and analysis of reactive systems since the start of the project in 2016.
